CONTENTS

Features

What Is Your State Doing For Small Farmers? 5

The University of Nebraska Cooperative Extension Acreage team produces a free monthly electronic newsletter that was started in March 2003 to provide new and established acreage owners with timely information.

Asparagus 6

Asparagus is an early spring vegetable and a high value garden crop.

Broccoli 7

There are two types of broccoli: heading and sprouting. Most garden broccoli is of the heading type, which is closely related to cauliflower and forms a large central head.

Big Ideas For Small Farms 8

What began as an effort to prevent large "factory farms" from locating in their community has turned into a unique meat-marketing venture for several farm families in east-central Nebraska.

Details Important When Starting Goat Herd 10

Armed with some basic knowledge and a notebook chocked full of names of friends to call on during those "what do I do now" situations, almost anyone can be a successful meat goat producer.

Drip Irrigation For Small Areas 12

Drip, or micro-irrigation, technology uses a network of plastic pipes to carry a low flow of water under low pressure to plants.

"Smart Farm" Aims To Shape Agriculture Practices 21st Century 14

Alfred State College in New York will help shape the future of family farming locally, regionally, nationally and globally, with development of its new Centennial Farm.

A Great Escape 16

For the past eighty-two years Toronto's Exhibition Place and Ricoh Coliseum has hosted the Royal Agricultural Winter Fair, commonly known as "the Royal." Read about it and plan to attend this year's event November 3 to 12.

Alternative Fuels.... Tomorrow's Technology, Today 18

Read about some of the technology now available to allow us to break our major dependence on foreign energy sources and build our own economy right here at home.

Aquatic Farmer Section

Recirculating Aquaculture Tanks

Combine Fish and Plant Culture 22

Small-Scale Channel Catfish Farming 24

Battling Winged Fish Robbers 26

Columns & Departments

Small Farm Talk 3

"This is not the column I planned to write for this issue," says Andy Stevens. "This is because of some events that happened on February 25th at the Ohio Ayrshire Breeders Association's annual meeting.

Over The Fence 20

This column is a place for you to share and learn about what is happening on family farms.

Calendar 29

Farm shows and events for your learning and enjoyment.

On the bookshelf 30

Books that can help you do a better job and live the good life on your place in the country.

About the cover

The "Wether or Not" farm of Rob and Anna Hamburg in Lacombe, Oregon isn't 'kidding around' about raising goats. They started with Jacob Sheep, but their interest for meat and milk goats led them in a different direction. They purchased a Boer billy and a variety of milk and Boer does. The stocky meat goat mixed with the milk producers is working out nicely. Anna now has milk for their table with plenty for the growing kids. Their colorful little flock is also providing lots of entertainment as they climb on the playground ramps Rob built for them.
