What Is Your State Doing For Small Farms? 5

This month I have picked the "Sunshine State" (Florida). This is the eighth state in our continuing project. Will your state be next?

The Gradual Extinction Of The Florida Cow Hunter 6

Probably one of the least known progressions in Florida's history is how the cattle drivers tamed and cured the land for the production of agriculture.

Life on a Northern Michigan Small Farm 8

Get ready to experience life on a "real farm!" Steve Edwards is going to take you on a whirlwind tour of Aspen Hill Farms in Boyne City, Michigan.

The Value Of Rabbits 10

Rabbits are often-overlooked animals for a prospective livestock venture. In both myth and fact, the productive capacity of the rabbit is legendary.

Tips On Weaning Calves 12

The worst time of a calf's life is weaning. Preconditioning programs to get vaccinations done ahead of weaning can help, but there are still instances where weaning stress results in sickness, lost production and costly medicines—and deaths.

Preparation Of The Meat Goat Breeding Herd 14

As the breeding season approaches, producers should be concerned with the body condition of their breeding does. Goats should not be allowed to become too thin or too fat.

Aquatic Farmer Special Section

Disease Threatens Koi And Foodfish Carp 16

Koi herpes virus (KHV) is a viral disease highly contagious to fish. It may cause significant sickness or disease and mortality in common carp and the ornamental fish known as koi.

Pond Management 20

Pond owners are frequently interested in providing artificial aeration in their ponds.

Artificial aeration can increase the amount of dissolved oxygen available.

About the cover

The rolling hills of Fairfield County Ohio and the scenic Hocking River provide much picturesque scenery for residents and visitors. A hike to the top of the 300-foot Mt. Pleasant in Lancaster's Rising Park offers spectacular views of the city, the surrounding countryside, and on a clear day, the tops of the Downtown Columbus skyscrapers, 30 miles to the northwest. The Fairfield County Fair, the "oldest continually operated" county fair in Ohio, is located next to Mt. Pleasant. You can read about managing your ponds on page 20. Our cover photo was taken in Rising Park by Andy Stevens, editor.
